

Questions for self-control

1. Describe the disk operating system.
2. Name types of memory used in computers.
3. Give basic ergonomic monitors settings.
4. What are the internal and external teams operating system.
5. How is the software that is provided by the manufacturer technical means to ensure its full operation?
6. Explain what a POST-test?
7. Name, which are shell login and file managers.
8. Explain the purpose batch command files.
9. Give examples of functional buttons and combinations of FAR.
10. What are the main ways of finding information about the operating system.

Tasks for independent work

1. Make a batch command file that performs the following actions: makes a copy prvt.txt prvt.bak, removes all text files from the directory.
2. Make a batch command file that performs the following actions: c1.txt files and c2.txt combines c.txt file and displays its contents on the screen.
3. Make a batch command file that performs the following actions: creates a catalog of TTM and takes it to copy all text files from the active directory.
4. Make a batch command file that performs the following actions: the operator sends the results to a text file dir and displays its contents on the screen.
5. Make a batch command file that performs the following actions: makes copies of files and c1.txt c2.txt a floppy disk and destroys them on the hard drive.